Over the past 16 years, MedWish International has evolved from a grassroots organization into a significant provider of medical humanitarian aid to those in need worldwide. From our humble beginnings to our current location, a 40,000 square foot donated warehouse, MedWish International continues to expand operations in the most cost-effective and efficient ways.

Since 2005, the MedWish International Recover, Recycle, Redistribute program has grown exponentially—experiencing a 1,000% increase in the number of medical items recovered from hospitals, healthcare facilities, medical supply companies, and individuals. In measuring our impact, MedWish International saw a 2,000% increase in the amount of medical aid redistributed to countries worldwide. The relief provided by MedWish International empowers doctors, nurses, and clinic workers with the necessary lifesaving resources to improve healthcare in their regions. Never before in the history of our organization has MedWish International had the ability to vastly advance the health and wellness of thousands of individuals on a global level.

The environmental impact of the Recovery component of our program averages to nearly 1,600 pounds of medical supplies diverted daily from landfills.

For 16 years, MedWish International has provided lifesaving medical supplies to suffering men, women and children in forgotten corners of the world. These oftentimes basic medical supplies—items like gauze, bandages, sutures and gloves—may mean the difference between life and death for a pregnant woman…a newborn baby…or an injured farmer. For 16 years, MedWish International has provided lifesaving medical supplies to suffering men, women and children in forgotten corners of the world.

• In the past four years, MedWish International has witnessed a tremendous operational growth:
  • Recovered more than 604,000 pounds of usable, lifesaving medical supplies, equipment and furnishings to developing countries worldwide in an effort to save lives and save the environment.
  • Recovered more than 628,000 pounds of usable, lifesaving medical supplies, equipment and furnishings to developing countries worldwide in an effort to save lives and save the environment.
  • Since 2006, the amount of supplies received by a factor of 25
  • From 2006 through 2009, the amount of supplies distributed per month has increased by a factor of 25

MedWish International is the Cleveland-based nonprofit organization responsible for the recovery, recycling and redistribution of donated medical supplies, equipment and furnishings to developing countries worldwide in an effort to save lives and save the environment.

2009 In-Kind Donors
MedWish International’s partner organizations donated over 300 tons of usable medical supplies, equipment and furnishings normally earmarked for the landfill. These supplies - ranging from gauze and bandages to ultrasound and cardiology machines - provide hope, health and healing to many in desperate need of medical care.

In 2009, in-kind donations of medical products exceeded $8.6 million dollars. MedWish International is extremely grateful for the commitment and dedication of hospitals, healthcare facilities and medical supply companies who save lives both at home and around the world.
